MUSIC, DANCING AND ADDRESSES

Members of Division 3, A. O. H., are preparing to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of their division with a three-fold entertainment at Falls City Hall next Tuesday evening. The real anniversary will occur on Wednesday, October 13, but the hall could not be secured for that night. President Patrick T. Sullivan will preside; State President George J. Butler and County President P. J. Welch will be guests of honor. The literary and musical feature of the silver jubilee will not be too lengthy, yet it will deal to a great extent with matters pertaining to the history of Division 3. Of course the few addresses will be interspersed with Irish melodies. After the literary programme there will be a buffet luncheon and then for two hours a dance for the young people.

The hall is not large enough to accommodate all the Hibernians in the city, so the committee in charge has sent out invitations to a few, and then it is believed the capacity of the hall will be taxed. President Patrick T. Sullivan will deliver the principal address. He is familiar with the history of the division and thoroughly conversant with the advantages it has brought to its members, particularly the younger men.

Division 3, Ancient Order of Hibernians, was organized in Reisch's Hall, corner Nineteenth and Portland avenue, on October 13, 1884. The late John M. Hennessy, at that time County President, conducted the organization. The late James Rogers and John J. Barrett were among the visiting members on that evening. When the charter roll was closed the following names had been inscribed: Michael Sheehan, President; George J. Butler, Vice President; M. J. Ford, Recording Secretary; John Sheehan, Financial Secretary; Edward Malone, Treasurer; Michael J. Lerner, Sentinel; James Gill, Sergeant-at-Arms; Standing Committee—Michael J. Deely, P. T. Sullivan, Thomas Kennedy, Thomas Kelly, Michael Moore and John Thornton. Of the Standing Committee all save Messrs. Sullivan and Kennedy are dead.

During the twenty-five years of the existence of Division 3 only one man who served as President is dead, poor Joe Taylor, whose demise occasioned great sorrow throughout Hibernian circles in the State. Those who have served as President in order of succession are Michael Sheehan, Patrick Holley, James Coleman, P. T. Mullen, N. Sheridan, L. J. Mackey, Joseph Taylor, Thomas A. Quinn, P. J. Welch and Patrick T. Sullivan, the incumbent.

Besides the following members have held State, county and national offices: George J. Butler, State Treasurer, National Director, and two terms as State President; Patrick Holley, State Treasurer and two terms as State President; James Coleman, for eight terms unanimously chosen State Secretary; Michael Sheehan, State Treasurer; P. T. Sullivan, Thomas A. Quinn and Patrick J. Welch County Presidents.

Among men who are now or who were at one time members of Division 3 who have held positions of trust in the city government are Daniel F. Murphy, for many years City Assessor; Edward T. Tierney, City Auditor and a member of the Board of Public Safety; Edward J. Mackey, Secretary to Congressman Swager Sherley; P. T. Sullivan, Magistrate; N. J. Sheridan, Deputy Assessor; P. J. Beaman, Deputy Jailor; L. J. Mackey, clerk at the Postoffice and attorney-at-law.

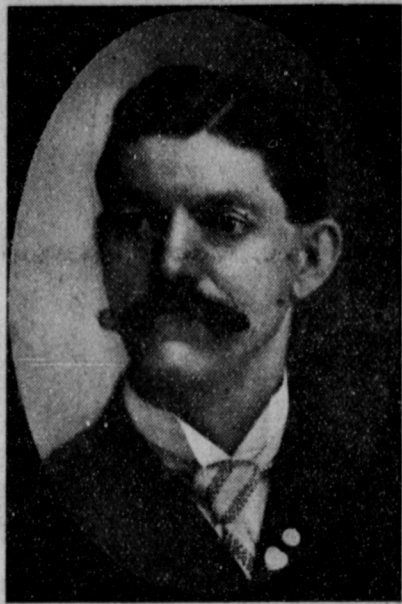

Still others are prominent in professional and commercial circles. Michael Sheehan, George J. Butler and Michael Murphy are successful grocers; D. J. Coleman has reaped success as a hotel man and in the dry goods business; Patrick T. Mullen is also forging to the front in the dry goods line and D. J. Dougherty has made a success as a funeral director. Among the members who have been admitted to the bar and who are now practicing law are P. T. Sullivan, L. J. Mackey, Edward J. Mackey and P. T. Welch. These have been members for more than twenty-four years: Michael Sheehan, George J. Butler, M. J. Ford, P. T. Sullivan, Thomas Kennedy, James McCue, Patrick Holley, James Coleman, P. J. Nelligan, N. J. Sheridan, Patrick Connolly, M. J. Carroll, Timothy McCarthy, Frank Higgins, D. J. Coleman, P. T. Mullen and Patrick Sheehans.

The present membership is 130. In the twenty-five years of the division's life it has spent more than $20,000 for all purposes, most of it in charity, and there still remains a cash balance of more than $1,000 in the treasury.

Judge Brewer Talks Ably of Liberty and Stability in Government.

World Is Improving and Mankind Is Growing Better
Each Day.

SUGGESTS ABLE CONSIDERATION

There are few Americans who do not occasionally find fault with the Government in some of its departments, and very often the judiciary comes in for its share of roasting. Yet at times all must admit that the machinery of the United States Government, particularly in the judicial branch, is tending more toward ultimate perfection every day. This idea could not be better exemplified than by quoting Justice Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court. To a representative of one of the big New York dailies a few days ago Justice Brewer said:

"The thought that has been uppermost in my mind lately is that of liberty and stability. Those two words express the proper relation of the people and the Government. On the one hand there must be freedom of action and liberty for the individual. On the other hand there must be fixed powers of government, giving stability to the nation. Between the two stands the court, holding steady the balance. I am a firm believer in the largest possible measure of freedom for the individual. He must be permitted to have the widest scope of action in carrying out his own life. There must be no stifling of effort. There must be no checking of initiative. The great inventions of the age, the notable achievements of mankind, the progress of civilization, the advancements we have seen displayed during the past week in these Hudson-Fulton ceremonies, all typify what man has accomplished by his unrestricted individual efforts. The discovery of the North Pole is another instance of freedom of action. I do not mean to enter the controversy between Cook and Peary. That is for the scientists to decide. But no matter which one of them or whether both of them reached the Pole, the fact stands out clearly and concretely that it was the triumph of the individual man, working for his own success, pushing on against obstacles, backed by his own strength and courage and determination. There was no government to map out his course, no system of socialism to restrict his scope of operation. It typifies the highest form of individual success."

"Mankind would not have been able to accomplish what it has if government had made itself felt on every side, holding back the desires of the individual, setting limited boundaries to the scope of his ambition, directing every day what he should and should not do. Quickly there would be an end to energy and initiative. Man would lose interest in his work. He would become inactive, unproductive. But at the same time there must be government to insure stability, to give form to the efforts of individuals, to render secure the fruits of their labors, to put into effect law. Individuality without any bounds, without form or cohesiveness would result in the mob and utter confusion. Government is necessary to give form and system to individual effort but not to restrict it. That form and system is expressed in the constitution, which both guarantees individual liberty and insures stability of the nation. I take little part in political affairs, but there is apparent there another decided tendency of individualism, and that is the growth of independence in voting. This is a hopeful sign of political improvement."

"I do not believe in the extreme of this political independence, for that would mean the disruption of organized effort. A strong, healthy party of opposition is very helpful in restraining the excesses of a dominant majority. But when you have a body of independent thinking and independent acting men in any community it means that there is a group that can not be swayed or influenced by ordinary political methods. Their attitude tends to force an improvement in political conditions, the election of good men to office and better government in the end.

"Our fathers in framing the Constitution looked ahead and foresaw that disputes would arise over what are the limits of liberty and the scope of government. They wisely set up a Supreme Court of the United States as the tribunal to decide all these questions of individual rights and State's rights as against Government authority so that we may preserve the balance that will produce the greatest good and the greatest happiness."

I have wondered sometimes whether the fathers looked even further into the future, whether in providing for a court to settle differences between the States of our own country they foresaw a time when an international court would adjust all disputes between the nations of the world, so that there might be universal peace. As I survey the past and look into the future, I am firmly convinced that the world is improving; that mankind is growing better; that we, as people and nations, are aiming at higher things. Despite all the shortcomings, the failures to reach high standards, the criticisms of the day, we believe we are progressing toward a better life."

DIED ON SHIP.

Former Kentucky Girl Failed to Reach Native Land.

Marquise des Monstiers-Meriville, formerly Miss Mary Gwendolyn Caldwell, of Louisville, died aboard the steamer Crown Princess Cecilia while en route from Germany to New York on Tuesday morning. While the Marquise was highly regarded in Louisville on account of her benefactions to charity, she had few if any intimate friends here. She was forty-seven years old and her ailment was Bright's disease.

The Marquise was the eldest daughter of the late William Shakespeare Caldwell and Mary Breckinridge Caldwell. The father came of Welsh stock. He amassed quite a fortune in the South and removed to Louisville at the close of the civil war. Here he invested heavily in real estate, and while his holdings later turned out valuable, they did not realize his expectations during his life. He donated the ground and erected the splendid Sts. Mary and Elizabeth's Hospital in this city. It will remain a monument to the munificence of the Caldwell family.

Before her marriage the Marquise and her sister, the Baroness von Sedwitz, gave largely to Catholic charities.

Several years ago the Marquise contemplated erecting a memorial chapel to her parents in St. Louis cemetery. She carried on negotiations with Col. M. Muldoon. Plans were drawn for a Grecian temple, something after the style of the Madeleine of Paris, though of course on a smaller scale. The estimated cost was $60,000. With Col. Muldoon the Marquise, then Miss Caldwell, visited Europe to select marbles, etc. For some unknown reason the negotiations were interrupted for a time, but not long ago the Marquise wrote to inquire if Col. Muldoon retained the plans. He informed her that he had. It may be that the building of the chapel will be provided for in the will of the Marquise. Her father and mother repose in St. Louis cemetery and over their graves the daughter had erected a magnificent sarcophagus, one of the finest monuments in the cemetery.

Archbishop John Lancaster Spalding was made guardian of the two Caldwell girls, Mary and Elizabeth, at their father's death.

IRISH-AMERICANS AGAIN.

Irish-American amateur athletes carried away the honors at the close of the two-days' indoor track and field meet at Madison Square Garden, New York City, on Tuesday night. The Irish-American Athletic Club of New York scored sixty-nine points, while their nearest rivals, the New York Athletic Club, was second with sixty-two points. Melvin W. Shephard, of the Irish-Americans, not only won the 600-yard run but made a new world's record. J. J. Eller, of the same club, made a new record in the 150-yard dash.

Irish and Germans Have No
Place in Grinstead Band of Politics.

Registration Figures Indicate
That Democratic Victory
Is Certain.

Unwarranted Arrest and Assault of Highly Esteemed Citizen.

WHO IS THIS SERGT. BUCKLEY?

There are some Kentuckians who can never forgive Germans and Irish for migrating hither. The Grinstead family seems to be of that ilk, judging from a colloquy that recently took place on Second street. The participants were a very estimable lady of means and a son of Mayor Grinstead. They had dined occasionally at the same table and were quite friendly. One day last week they met and the son of the Grinstead family greeted the lady:

"Well, how are you? I have not seen you for a long time."
"Oh! I am sick today."
"What is the matter?"
"Your father is the cause of the trouble."

"What has poor dad done now?"
"This morning I came out Second street and saw two white men digging in a hole and they were bossed by a big fat negro."

Young Grinstead: "Oh! That's nothing. You must not worry over that. They were only poor old Irish and Dutch."
The lady felt much aggrieved and her story is winning votes for W. O. Head. Is it not strange that a business man, a man who conducts a wholesale grocery business, who expects to cater to Irish and German retail grocers and who expects to be re-elected Mayor, even though ineligible, will permit his own family to talk in this manner? Maybe it means that Papa Jim says "Damn the Irish and Dutch."

Many of the registering places were in the homes of negroes, and naturally white people were averse to entering these places to register. In some instances the repugnance was overcome by a sense of duty, but there were others who would not enter negro hovels to exercise their sovereign right of suffrage.

A fraction over 52,000 votes were registered and of these 24,000 were Democrats, 18,000 were Republicans and 9,000 are registered as independents. It is certain that the Democrats have 24,000 to count on from the start. It is also certain that they will get at least half of the independent vote. That will give the Democrats 28,500, while the rest of the vote will be divided between Tylerites, Toddlers and followers of the Grinstead-Scholl machine.

The Republican machine workers tried many tactics to win in repeaters during the two days of registration, but the Democrats had their eyes peeled for all emergencies. The Tenth ward was the main source of discord, and as that is a large negro district the Republicans thought it possible to pull off almost anything there. The Democrats had forethought to place able, conservative and firm men as challengers in the Tenth ward. One of the ablest was Major William A. Colston, Assistant Controller of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, a veteran of the Spanish American war and a Kentucky gentleman. Major Colston challenged too many negroes to suit the Republicans and was arrested by Sergt. Buckley and Detective Holmender. He was charged with obstructing an election. Although he knew full well that bondsmen were en route to obtain Colston's release, Major Edward Burke, the night Chief of police, ordered Colston placed in a cell. That was done, but his release followed shortly. Major Colston swore out warrants charging Buckley and Holmender with assault and battery. He proposes to fight the case to a finish.

This is the same Buckley who was bartender in a Green street saloon. What trouble did he have in his capacity as collector for a Cincinnati brewery?

Not many weeks ago Tom Maher resigned as Chief of detectives to seek rest and recuperation. Health seems to have returned to him unexpectedly. Tuesday morning George White, a big black, thick-lipped negro and Republican politician, who conducts the Log Cabin saloon at Sixth and Green streets, shot Hottle Howell, his piano player. That happened at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock White was riding over the city with Tom Maher in Maher's private vehicle. It was a sure enough study in black and white. White is the same negro who has had many conferences with Col. Haager recently. Col. Haager denies that these conferences were of a political nature, but Maher is Haager's man of all work, and those who understand the situation can see the bond of union between Maher, White, Haager & Co.

GREAT GOOD

Is Being Accomplished by
Our Lady of Rosary
Mission.

The Mission of Our Lady of the Rosary, No. 7 State street, New York City, which has for its object the protection of Irish immigrant girls, is making another appeal for aid. Its purpose is a worthy one and for twenty-six years it has enjoyed the recognition and support of the highest ecclesiastical authorities in the land.

Within the twelve months ending June 30 last there landed in the port of New York 18,997 Irish immigrants. Of these 9,745 were women and most of them young and unprotected. All of them, men and women, were met on arrival by one or more representatives of the mission. Advice was given, in some cases money was advanced, telegrams were sent out announcing departure, and those girls not discharged at Ellis Island were accompanied to the home conducted by the mission and comfortably accommodated free of charge until entrusted to relatives or placed in employment.

During the aforementioned twelve months 845 girls were thus accommodated, and of these 805 were Irish, twenty-one English, nine Scotch, six Welsh, three Americans and one Portuguese. Of these 220 girls secured employment through the mission.

While the total immigration to the United States was 580,616, the arrivals from Ireland showed a marked decrease over previous years. Membership in the mission costs only twenty-five cents, and in acknowledgment of this assistance mass is offered three times each week for the subscribers and their friends. Those who wish to encourage a worthy cause should correspond with the Rev. Father M. J. Henry, director of the mission.

GERMAN WEEK

Held in Chicago Under Very Happy and Fortunate Conditions.

This has been German week in Chicago, and it has been a strenuous one for all concerned from last Sunday afternoon, when the big street parade was held, until its close with a night pagan this evening. The week not only commemorates the thrift of German-Americans in Chicago, but it is the two hundred and twenty-sixth anniversary of the landing of the first German colonists in America. That colony was the nucleus around which has grown 12,000,000 of sturdy, thrifty sons of the Fatherland.

Of the 12,000,000 people accredited to the German race in the United States at least 5,000,000 have settled in the Middle West. The Germans are great agriculturists, but at the same time they are very thrifty as business men. This is best shown by their career in Chicago during the past thirty-nine years. In 1870 the German percentage of population in Chicago was 19.33 and the percentage in business was 36.5; in 1909 the German percentage of population was 13.92 and the percentage in business was 32.87.

German composers have helped to mold American music. German statesmen have helped to mold American thought and policy. The racial traits of German character have had a noteworthy effect on American life.

COLUMBUS

Will Be Honored Wherever the American Flag Is Floating.

Great Movement to Make His Landing Anniversary a Holiday.

Catholic Gentlemen of the Union Are Inculcating
Patriotic Lessons.

RESPECT LATE BISHOP'S MEMORY

Wherever the Stars and Stripes fly next Tuesday will be observed as Landing day, the day upon which Christopher Columbus set foot upon American soil, October 12, 1492. Doubtless it will also be celebrated more or less in Mexico, Central and South America and in Canada, Italy and Spain, too, have a right to take part in the festive celebration, but in the United States alone the day will be one of greater moment.

If the Knights of Columbus never did anything else they have inculcated lessons of patriotism. Through their efforts New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Colorado, Illinois, Missouri, Montana, California and Michigan have made October 12 an annual legal holiday. Other States are preparing similar bills and ere many years Congress will be called upon to make Landing day a legal holiday.

The story of the Genoese sailor, student, scientist and scholar, Christopher Columbus, who believed the world was round and whose ideas were scorned in his own country, is not a new one. Neither is it new, that story of how his theories were advanced by the Spanish Dominicans and how they prevailed upon Ferdinand and Isabella to espouse the cause of Columbus. In those days the feat of Columbus was one hundred times more marvelous than the trip of Cook or Peary to the North Pole in our days.

Columbus' first landing was on one of the Bahama Islands. He called it San Salvador—the Holy Saviour—and the island still bears that name. He made three subsequent trips to the western waters of the Atlantic, but died without knowing a great western hemisphere lay behind the beautiful and fruitful lands. Yet he had paved the way for Vesputci, the Cabots, Sir Walter Raleigh, Henry Hudson and others, and that is why the Catholic gentlemen of the United States honor him and have chosen him as their patron. They desire to be first in all things where God and country are concerned.

The Knights are made up of Americans, whether they spring from Italian, Spanish, French, German or Irish parentage. It is their purpose to make October 12 a national holiday, and they argue that it would be particularly appropriate to have celebrations of the day in all the schools, public and parochial. While Americans of many races are interested in the movement, one of the most considerable forces is that of the joint action of the Italian societies. The fact that Columbus was of Italian birth furnishes the motive. He is the historical link that binds the Italian to America. Paying formal respect to the discoverer or these shores is a movement in which all Americans should be interested.

Throughout the United States and wherever councils of the Knights of Columbus have been established in Canada, Mexico, Porto Rico, Cuba or the Philippines, the day will be observed. In many places work and business will be abandoned. Solemn masses of thanksgiving will be celebrated. Noted prelates and priests will sing the praises of Columbus and inculcate new lessons of patriotism. School children will hold appropriate exercises in many places. In others the Knights will banquet in the evening and from coast to coast and from the frozen North till below the Equator peans of praise for Christopher Columbus will ascend. Louisville Council, K. of C., had made preliminary arrangements for its part in the mammoth celebration of Landing day, but out of respect to the memory of the late Bishop McCloskey the members deemed it well to postpone its celebration for at least thirty days.

STALWART NUN.

The Volksblatt, of Cologne, Germany, vouches for the accuracy of a remarkable story of a nun's encounter with a bull. The heroine is one of three Sisters of the Order of St. Vincent, who have charge of a large dairy near Rottenmunster, Wurtemberg. The bull attacked a sixty-five-year-old herdsmen, who was pinned against a wall. Two other men were too frightened to interfere, but the nun ran from the dairy, dung herself on the animal and seized its horns. She actually succeeded in throwing the bull off its feet, and before it could rise again the nun and the three laborers were in safe shelter.

SILVER EPISCOPAL JUBILEE.

The silver episcopal jubilee of Pope Pius X. will be celebrated on November 16. Owing to the fact that last year the Pope solemnly celebrated his golden sacerdotal jubilee the solemnities this year will be on a minor scale, but still many pilgrimages will visit Rome on this occasion.

COLUMBUS DAY.
Tuesday will be Landing day, by some called Discovery day. It ought to be known as Columbus' day. No day should appeal with such force to Americans of all classes as Landing day. It was Christopher Columbus who threw open the gates of the New World to Christian faith and civilization. Instead of passing his declining years in peace and plenty, Columbus was returned to Spain in chains. Although he never reached the mainland of the Western hemisphere, he showed the way to reach it. Instead of being called Columbia the irony of fate made it America, after one of his successors in discovery.
However, to real Americans it will ever remain:
"Columbia! the gem of the ocean!
The home of the brave and the free,
The shrine of each patriot's devotion,
The world owes its homage to thee."

DUTY OF AMERICANS.
There are many American citizens who prate about corruption in politics, and yet who do not properly concern themselves about the government of their city, State and nation. As each recurring election comes around it behooves every citizen to join himself thoughtfully and earnestly to the study of his rights and duties in order that he may perform his share of the vast work which the nation is bound to accomplish, not only for itself but for the world.
He should remember that he is a sovereign among sovereigns, since in this country there is no power but the will of the people. Americans should reverence the laws because they are the instrument of the Government which the people have established; he should do homage to religion, without which the laws have no practical efficiency, and he should take Christianity into his heart as the only hope of his personal happiness.
Every American should faithfully fulfill the various relations of his business and of his domestic and social life, and inculcate the same source of consistent obligations on all around him. Thus he will become an example of the civic character demanded by the true theory of our great republic. Thus he will help to raise the title of American citizen to the loftiest rank of universal confidence and honor.

SURE HE IS RIGHT.
There is much meat in this suggestion of the editor of the Memphis Catholic Mirror: "The Catholic paper is the Catholic woman's paper. A single copy is worth more to her than a thousand editions of any other. She doesn't read the sport results of the day and throw it away when a column or two has been hurriedly glanced over. How many copies of a Catholic paper has any business man seen cast away in a street car, or sweeping the streets before the wind? And why has he not seen these sights so familiar with other publications? Simply because the Catholic woman is not ready to part with her Catholic paper even after she has finished reading it."

PEACE IS COSTLY.
Lord Grey, an English statesman, has called attention to the fact that half the revenues that European nations now raise are being devoted to making preparations to kill each other. This shows that the peace footing of the present day is as costly as was the war footing of fifty years ago. It means that eventually disputes between nations must be settled by international arbitration. War lords are no more compatible with civilization than are pirates and bandits.

So the School Trustees have voted to commit political hari-kari. That is they would like to commit suicide but have not enough nerve. In their disgust with their own lack of courage they petition the yet unborn Legislature to smother them. Surely this is a suicide pact, but one that is undeniably commendable.

The brilliant water pageants in New York harbor during the Hudson-Fulton celebration were originally suggested by the late Admiral Joseph B. Coughlan, of Manila and "Hoch! Der Kaiser" fame. It is a pity that this brilliant Irish-American was not spared to participate in America's great jubilee.

The Frankfort Daily News is one year old, and its editor and publishers have received many congratulations on the health and growth of the infant journal. The News is first, last and all the time for the Democratic ticket, and deserves encouragement and support.

The City of New York has a population more than ten times as large as Louisville, and yet New York's police force has only nine automobiles as against Louisville's six. How is that for economy and reform?

Misses Katherine R. Kearns and William Umehine surprised their friends by being quietly married at the rectory of St. Charles Borromeo's church Monday evening. The Rev. Father Charles P. Raffo performed the ceremony. Later they went to Chicago on a bridal tour. The bride is a charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kearns, of 424 South Twenty-second street.

Thomas E. Burkholder, now of Chicago but formerly an active member of Mackin Council, is in Louisville for a short visit to his parents at 2117 Rowan street. While he is here on business for his firm, he is renewing acquaintance with many old friends. Since his last visit here in May, 1908, Mr. Burkholder has journeyed extensively through every State in the great Northwest.

Miss Nellye Cammilla Kerr and William Joseph Baker will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony at St. Louis Bertrand's church at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, October 20. The bride-elect is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kerr, and the fortunate young man is well thought of by all who know him. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Baker will be tendered a reception at the home of the bride's parents, 725 West St. Catherine street, from 8 until 1 o'clock.

The engagement of Miss Elizabeth J. Schene and Leonard P. Soete has been announced. The marriage will be solemnized at St. Martin's church at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, October 19. Rev. Father Louis W. Ohle will perform the ceremony. After the mass a wedding breakfast will be tendered the bridal party at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. Schene, 730 East Chestnut street. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Soete will leave on a wedding trip through the East and North. Both young people have hosts of friends in Catholic circles and all join in wishing them a happy married life.

APPRECIATES THE IRISH.

During his swing through the country President Taft officiated at the christening of the vast estate of Thomas F. Walsh near Denver last week. It was named Clonmel, after the town which was the birthplace of Mr. Walsh. In performing the little ceremony President Taft said: "The hardy immigrants from Tipperary and from every part of the Emerald Isle have come to the front in America as they deserve. There is no element, no strain in our civilization that has manifested itself to be stronger, more enterprising, more shrewd in business, more stern in enforcing high moral principles than the Irishmen who come to this country to make it their own. I have the greatest pleasure in calling this place after that beautiful spot in Tipperary. I consecrate this estate to 'Clonmel.'"

NEWPORT BELLE TO WED.

Mrs. Anna J. Butler, of Newport, has announced the approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Essie Lignart Butler, to Arthur J. Schriver. The wedding will be solemnized at the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Wednesday, October 20.

CRISIS.
Imminent in British Government and King Is Quite Anxious.

All Eyes Turned Towards Lord Rosebery For the Present Moment.

Rejection of the Budget by House of Lords Will Mean Trouble.

IRISH PARTY HOLDS WHIP HAND

Great Britain is in a furore again, and all on account of the British budget. King Edward seems to be as much alarmed as any and his score has infected the people. According to cable advices from London received Saturday night the King had summoned Lord Rosebery, Edward VII. does not want the House of Lords overthrown and is seeking to prevent Lord Rosebery from taking any further agitation against the budget.

Rosebery had been invited to address an anti-budget meeting in Birmingham within the next fortnight. After he had been summoned to the conference with the King he sent a letter to those who convened the meeting, but its nature was not made public at the time. In view of the present crisis Lord Rosebery is stopping with King Edward at Balmoral. Rosebery refuses to speak at Birmingham his action will be directly attributable to the King's intervention. King Edward feels quite secure in his position, but with the House of Lords no longer to act as a buffer against radical legislation he can not feel confident about his successor, who has none of his own gifts.

The political crisis continues to dominate public attention in England and the excitement will continue until the fate of the budget is settled one way or another by the House of Lords in the first week of November. The latest report in Ministerial circles is that the Government has resolved to have a general election in January whether the House of Lords passes the budget or not. The Ministers consider it necessary to have the opinion of the country as to whether the House of Lords is to be permitted to mutilate or reject all Liberal legislation, as the House has been doing and will continue to do if even it passes the budget.

Ugly charges are being bandied between the two parties. Balfour accuses the Liberals of circulating lies in asserting that the Tories will repeal the old age pensions act if they are returned to power, and the Liberals charge that the Rothschilds and other big financiers who have signed the petition to the House of Lords to reject the budget were actuated by pecuniary motives. A prominent Liberal Minister, when it was suggested that the financial confusion that would follow a rejection of the budget would be all against the interests of big financial houses, said:

"You are utterly wrong. If the budget is thrown out, the Government will have to borrow. The big financial houses get the commission. When stocks go down they buy and when stocks recover again they sell and pocket the margin. Why, it will be as profitable for them as the South African war."

The Liberals continue confident of winning. Many still doubt that the House of Lords will risk everything on such doubtful chance. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., says: "The future of the budget is in as complete doubt as ever. The action of the House of Lords changes every hour. On the whole, the balance for the moment is in favor of the rejection of the budget and a general election in January. The Irish party now hopes for a rejection of the budget and a new election. Conflict with the Lords offers Ireland the best chance for a quarter of a century for two reasons. First the paralysis of the power of the Lords removes the only remaining obstacle to home rule, and secondly, the next House of Commons will place the Irish party in a dominating position whichever party gets into power."

TEACHING ALL NATIONS.

Among the students of the Propaganda recently ordained to the priesthood in Rome was a young Zulu, whose father, a prominent chief, is still a pagan. This young priest made a brilliant course in theology, and speaks fluently besides his own language French, Italian and English—the last, however, with a pronounced Southern drawl. He will work among his own people in South Africa. He is the fourth one of his tribe to be elevated to the priesthood in the past eleven years. Ordained with him were three Chinamen, who also speak English.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.
Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Memphis Council is planning to initiate another large class at an early date, and many of the prospective candidates are young men.

All the councils of Hamilton county, Ohio, which includes Cincinnati, will unite in a big banquet on Landing day. Archbishop Moeller and Bishop Maes will be among the honored guests.

Next Tuesday more than 100 councils of the order will sit down to banquets in honor of Christopher Columbus, and 10,000 leading Catholic citizens, will hear able and patriotic addresses.

During the lectures of Bishop J. J. Keane to non-Catholics at Milwaukee this week 150 Knights in full dress are acting as ushers, and over 6,000 personal invitations have been sent out to friends of the Knights.

Syracuse and Le Moyne Councils will attend a solemn Pontifical mass in the Syracuse Cathedral next Tuesday morning, and in the evening the joint councils will give a Discovery day celebration at the Alhambra. The Rev. Dr. James H. Driscoll, rector of St. John's church at Plattsburgh, will be one of the principal speakers.

RECENT INVENTION.

Prof. John J. Montgomery, of the well known Catholic scientist, of Santa Clara College, California, has just invented an important electrical device by means of which storage batteries can be charged with the common low voltage currents used in residences. Prof. Montgomery's apparatus may be attached to an electric lighting wire anywhere at night, and in the morning your automobile will be ready for use. The charging current may be turned on whenever the car is not in use, insuring plenty of power for every emergency. The inventor belongs to the Montgomery family of Kentucky, and one of his cousins is a teacher in St. Xavier's College on Broadway.

MISSION AT PLEASURE RIDGE.

A mission will begin at St. Paul's church, Pleasure Ridge Park, Elkhorn street road, at the high mass one week from tomorrow. It will be conducted by the Rev. Father Thomas P. McGuire, of the Cleveland apostolate. Father McGuire has the reputation of being an eloquent pulpit orator. The mission will continue for eight days and the daily devotions will take place at 9 o'clock in the morning, 3 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7 o'clock in the evening.

O'CONNOR IS COMING.

According to the latest cable advices T. P. O'Connor, M. P., is to come to the United States to explain the existing condition of Irish and English politics to Irish-Americans. It is possible that Mr. O'Connor may include Louisville in his itinerary. He lectured here some years ago, and was so cordially received and entertained that he went further South and married a Texas lady of brilliant attainments.

HIBERNIANS.

Liberty and Home Protective Party.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Division 4 will meet in regular session next Monday night.

Division 18 of Waltham will have a bazaar beginning November 1.

The divisions at Springfield, Ill., are building a hall to cost $50,000.

The National Directors have approved the plans for a home-going.

A fourth division of the order has been organized at Fall River, Mass.

Members of Division 3 expect a grand reunion of old members on Tuesday night.

Division 8, Ladies' Auxiliary, of Minneapolis, celebrated its first anniversary last week. Within the year the auxiliary doubled its membership.

St. Louis Hibernians are planning to erect a monument to the late Rev. Father Edward Fenlon, a priest who devoted his time and talent to Irish national affairs.

Mrs. Mary B. Daly, of Minneapolis, National Treasurer of the Ladies' Auxiliary, organized a branch of the auxiliary at Winnipeg. It starts out with a charter membership of fifty.

At the recent memorial services at St. Peter's cemetery, Rome, N. Y., the Hibernians, Ladies' Auxiliary and Knights of Columbus were in line and all wore their official badges.

Millwaukee Hibernians are receiving thanks from the Irish population of that city for securing Joseph Sheehan, the famous tenor, to represent Irish musical talent at the all-nations musical programme at the dedication of the new auditorium.

An exchange says there is a movement among the Ancient Order of Hibernians of the United States to raise $100,000 for a chapel on the grounds of the Catholic University. The order is said to be twice as strong as when it presented $50,000 to found a Celtic choir. There are things, however, much worse needed than a university chapel. The A. O. H. may well turn their attention to thousands of their fellow-countrymen living in neglected localities without church or priest.

YOUNG MEMBERS

Are Urged to Much Greater Activity by Their President.

Division 2, A. O. H., held a fairly well attended business meeting Friday night of last week. President Con J. Ford occupied the chair, and in the absence of Tim Stone over reliable Joe Lynch was made Secretary for the evening. Only routine business was transacted. Partial reports were made on the picnic and eulogy, but it is expected that full reports will be made next Friday night.

On the suggestion of President Ford a vote of thanks was given the Kentucky Irish American and the daily press for announcing their outing. The President also urged the younger members of the division to take a more active interest in the work of the order, and showed that most of the work for the recent picnic had been done by a few of the older members.

WELL KNOWN PRIEST DEAD.

It was with great regret that many Louisville Catholics heard of the death of Father Ubaldo Vobernink, O. F. M. He died at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Lafayette, Ind., on Monday morning. From 1879 until 1888 Father Ubaldo was pastor of St. Boniface's church in this city and made many warm friends here. A requiem mass was celebrated in St. Boniface's church, Lafayette, Ind., on Wednesday while the remains rested in state. Later the body was removed to Cincinnati and interred in St. Mary's cemetery.

HINES A WINNER.

At the meeting of the Louisville School Board on Monday night Thomas H. Hines was elected trustee officer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Elijah Littrell. Mr. Hines had been one of the trustee officers for several years and always won the encomiums of his superiors. The fact that he was dropped in June was due merely to politics, but his election now is another example of the survival of the fittest.

ELECT NEW PROVINCIAL.

Priors of the various Dominican convents in this Province assembled at their House of Studies, Washington, D. C., this week to elect a Provincial. It is generally believed that the choice has again fallen upon the Very Rev. Father Lawrence Kearney, who has held the office two terms. Father Kearney is a native of Lexington. St. Louis Bertrand convent was represented at the election by the Very Rev. Father J. C. Clark, O. P.

MACAULEY'S.

"The Top of the World," presented by Bailey and Austin, will be the attraction at Macauley's Theater the first half of next week. It is a musical fantasy with Queen Aurora and Jack Frost as the principal characters. During the last half of the week Al H. Wilson will present "Metz in Ireland." The usual matinee will be given on Saturday.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE.

The Catholic Women's League of Chicago will have its formal opening today. The feature will be an address by Byron Vincent Kanaley, whose subject will be "Columbus and His Achievement." Kanaley is a graduate of Notre Dame and Harvard Universities.

BARDSTOWN WEDDING.

Miss Marie Lucille Lossen and J. Harold Hurst, prominent young people of Bardstown, are to be united in marriage in St. Joseph's church in that city next Thursday. The Very Rev. Father C. J. O'Connell will perform the ceremony. The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lossen.

PLATFORM.

The Liberty and Home Protective Party's device shall be the Goddess of Liberty and its candidates representing it shall be independent in local and national politics, the sanctity of the home, personal liberty and freedom, free from unreasonable search or interference, guaranteed to us by our Constitution and the bill of rights, honesty and economy in all affairs relating to the public, and the selection of candidates by the people given an opportunity to express their preference in a fair, open, primary election and enforcement of the laws without favor to any party, class or monopoly.

The said party and its candidates representing it shall be independent in local and national politics, the sanctity of the home, personal liberty and freedom, free from unreasonable search or interference, guaranteed to us by our Constitution and the bill of rights, honesty and economy in all affairs relating to the public, and the selection of candidates by the people given an opportunity to express their preference in a fair, open, primary election and enforcement of the laws without favor to any party, class or monopoly.

To exercise diligence in the execution of the law relating to the observance of the Sabbath (or Christian Sunday) and to regulate the rate of taxation so that the burden may fall justly upon all persons and that it be reduced to the lowest minimum without impairing the public service.

To bring about a reduction in the tolls of the Cumberland Telephone Company which are now exorbitant and unjust; failing in this, to use our influence to prevent said company from operating in the city of Louisville.

To force a reduction in the price of public utilities, viz., lights, water and street car transportation. To encourage and promote all legitimate investments of capital, corporate or otherwise, and to see that their interests are protected and that both the interests of the corporation and the citizen shall be equally protected under the law.

We shall insist upon the passage of a law that will require the sale of all public franchises to the highest bidder for a term not exceeding twenty years, and in addition thereto a specific revenue tax of a certain percent of the gross earnings of all public utilities, companies, such as the street railway, telephone, gas and electric companies. These companies, having grown enormously rich from the privileges granted by the people and now claiming rights to which they are not entitled, shall be made to bear their proportion of the burden of taxation for the public good.

On the question of the modification of the laws of the State governing the death penalty (or Christian Sunday) we are opposed to all summary laws that interfere with or forbid the citizens to follow the dictates of conscience so long as he is a law-abiding and respects the law of the land, which we insist shall apply alike to each and every citizen.

We are in favor of the election of the Legislature of broad, liberal-minded, able men of intelligence and experience free from the corruption of money and greed, and of undoubted integrity who will give to the State their best and most considered in the enactment of just laws which are a guarantee of order and justice.

We are in favor of selecting the Judiciary of the State without regard to party affiliations, and the candidates for such positions to be judged alone on their personal qualifications and fitness for the office.

We shall strictly oppose the holding of any primary election at such unreasonable hours that shall in any way interfere against the right, the opportunity or privilege of the laboring man, storekeeper, clerk or any other person to attend their attendance at said primary elections, to the end that they may have an opportunity to freely and fully express their choice for all candidates for public office.

We shall insist that the police and fire departments, paid as they are by the citizens and the taxpayer, shall be organized and controlled by the city's administration purely upon a business basis, and that the members thereof shall not in any manner be interfered with on account of their political opinions or preferences. That they shall be free to act and express themselves as any other free citizen of the community, that their rights shall be protected in the same manner as the rights of any other citizen, no less than any other free citizen.

The public schools, in which every father, mother and the children of the city are interested, should be kept out of politics and the teachers thereof should be selected solely upon merit and their personal qualifications. Realizing that it is the duty of the State through its Legislature to look after the welfare and the highest promotion of these institutions, we shall hold it to be our highest duty to the State and its Legislature, a helping hand to better our present conditions.

The city owning its own water-works, we shall insist that a strict supervision shall be kept over that institution and it shall be the duty of the City Administration to see that the water-works shall be well provided for, that each and every citizen may have the best and purest water possible to be had; at the same time, we shall insist that it is a public institution, organized and created for the public good and that it shall furnish to the citizen the best and purest of water at the lowest cost.

We are in favor of requiring the City Street Railway Company to furnish six street-car tickets for twenty-five cents, or twenty-five children of the parish schools attend mass at 7:30 o'clock and join in reciting the Rosary and Litany of the Blessed Virgin. At St. Louis Bertrand's church at 7:30 o'clock each evening the Rosary and Litany is followed by a short instruction and benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

JOYOUS DAY

People of St. Mary's Parish
Preparing for Big Time.

All the Catholics of Louisville join with their brethren of St. Mary's in wishing them many happy returns of their sixtieth anniversary, which event will be celebrated tomorrow. It will be a grand reunion, not only of a family but of scores of families. Parents, grandparents, great grandparents and great grandchildren will kneel side by side in the church under the patronage of Mary Immaculate to offer their prayers of thanksgiving and to beseech future blessings.

The solemn mass of thanksgiving will be celebrated at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The officers of the mass will be the Rev. Father B. H. Westermann, pastor of St. Mary's, celebrant; the Rev. Father Bonaventura Cleeck, O. M. C., of St. Anthony's, deacon; Rev. Father John Schmidt, assistant pastor at St. Mary's, subdeacon.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the congregation will assemble at St. Mary's Hall, adjoining the church, to attend a musicale given by the music lovers of the parish. Incidental to the musicale the Very Rev. Dr. George W. Schulmann will deliver an address appropriate to the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Stark have arranged the musical numbers. Miss Mary Hunold will preside at the piano and Miss Minnie Hunold will render selections on the violin. The Concordia Singing Society will render several selections. A feature of the evening will be the rendition of the sextette from "Lucia" with the following voices: Mrs. Joseph Hubbuch, Miss Ida Schuckman, Messrs. P. A. Stark, Joseph Hubbuch, George Middendorf and Dr. Edward Hubbuch.

SOCIAL SESSION

And Educational Treat Is Planned by Mackin
Council.

Socially Mackin Council is preparing for an active fall campaign. Thus far the dances this season have been noted both for the tone of the patrons and the number of couples. It has been a case of quality and quantity being on a par. The remainder of the series of fall dances will be held next Thursday night, October 14, and October 28, November 11 and November 24, Thanksgiving eve.

Besides the work that Mackin's Social Club has in hand the council itself proposes to have an old-fashioned reunion and social session on the night of October 25. George J. Lautz, Austin Walsh, John Hancock, William M. Higgins and Vincent B. Smith were appointed a committee to wait upon Judge O'Doherty and to ask him to address the club on that evening. His will be the only address on the occasion. Judge O'Doherty has a wonderful fund of interesting information on social and economic subjects gleaned from his recent visit to Ireland and England and his lecture will be an educational treat. After the lecture refreshments will be served.

JOHNSON-TALBOTT.

Although the wedding of Miss Rebecca Johnson and John D. Talbott, of Bardonia, is to be a church affair, it will attract much attention in Kentucky society circles. The marriage will be solemnized in St. Joseph's church, at Bardonia next Tuesday at noon, the Very Rev. Father C. J. O'Connell officiating. Miss Nancy Johnson, sister of the bride, will be the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Misses Elizabeth Jefferson, of Louisville, Betty Johnson, of Bardonia, and Marie Muir, of Bloomfield. William Talbott, a brother of the groom, will be the best man. The groomsmen will be George Talbott, Eugene Fulton and George Parkhurst. After the ceremony the bridal party and the immediate families of the contracting parties will be tendered a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents. The bride is the daughter of Hon. Ben Johnson, who represents the Fourth Kentucky district in Congress. Both she and her sister have been much admired in Louisville and Washington society circles.

GOOD RACING TODAY.

The fall meeting at Churchill Downs will close this afternoon with the Vic Lorch selling. An exciting feature, with some of the best horses at the track entered, and the larger crowd of the meeting is expected. From a racing standpoint the meeting has been very successful, as clean racing has been the slogan, but the attendance and betting have been up to expectations. The suggestion has been made by some of the race-gazers that it would not be a bad idea to use the $250,000 machines at the fall meeting, as it would serve to increase the attendance and attendance at the same time.

KNIGHTS CHOOSE OFFICERS.

St. Edward's Conamndery, Knights of St. John, the majority of whose members reside in St. Anthony's parish, met Monday night and elected officers for the ensuing year. They are: President, John R. Fox; Vice, President, August Schwartz; Corresponding Secretary, Louis Wernert; Financial Secretary, Louis W. Borntraeger; Treasurer, John J. Schulten. Dr. and Mrs. Peter S. Ganz returned home Monday after a most enjoyable tour of the North and West. Both are enthusiastic over the glories of the great Northwest, particularly the State of Washington.

Dr. and Mrs. Ganz went direct to Banff, Canada, from Louisville. Thence they journeyed across the Canadian Rockies to Vancouver, British Columbia, and as far north and west as Sitka, Alaska. Returning south they spent a week at the Seattle Exposition. Other cities included in their itinerary were Portland, Ore., San Francisco, San Jose, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, the Cataline Islands, fifteen smaller towns on the coast of Lower California; El Paso, Texas; Juarez, Mexico; New Orleans and thence home. To a representative of the Kentucky Irish American Dr. Ganz said:

"No! I have not been trying to rival President Taft in touring the country. We took our time and saw what we considered worth seeing. I gained fifteen pounds in weight—that is what the President is trying to avoid. The Seattle Exposition is great. Washington is a great State and the apples there are marvelous."

Dr. Ganz might, if properly approached, make a very interesting talk on the trip to one or many of our local Catholic societies. His story of his trip to the Lick Observatory at San Jose, the old missions at Santa Barbara and crossing the border into Juarez would each make an interesting lecture.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY.

James J. Kavanaugh, one of the best known and most highly esteemed Irish-Americans in Louisville, died suddenly at his home, 1900 West Market street, on Wednesday night at 11:30 o'clock. He had been in failing health for several years, but never yielded in his work. On Tuesday and Wednesday he was one of the Democratic judges of registration in his precinct and remained at his post until the polls closed Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock. Two and one-half hours later he was dead. Mr. Kavanaugh was a native of Louisville and was forty-five years old. He is survived by his wife, seven children and four sisters, Mrs. Bernard Mulloy, of New Albany, and the Misses Katherine, Anna and Rose Kavanaugh. The funeral will take place from St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock this morning.

CRITERION CLUB'S DANCE.

The Criterion Club will give its annual select dance at Liederkrantz Hall on the night of Monday, October 18. The club is composed of well known young men of the West End and was organized about five years ago. They have a club house on High street, where all the members and their friends can spend pleasant evenings. The present officers of the club are James B. Murray, President; Thomas F. O'Connor, Vice President; William D. Harrison, Jr., Secretary; John C. Joyce, Treasurer, and John Leising, Sergeant-at-Arms.

FATHER M'GUIRE WILL PREACH.

The sermon at the high mass at St. John's church tomorrow at 10 o'clock will be preached by the Rev. Father Thomas F. McGuire, formerly of this city, but now of the Cleveland diocese. Father McGuire received his first holy communion from the venerable and very Rev. Father Box in St. John's church and later taught the boys of St. John's parochial school for six years.

MASONIC THEATER.

During the first half of next week, with a matinee on Wednesday, "The Wolf" will be presented at Masonic Theater. The attraction is fresh from a long run at the Lyric Theater, New York City. During the latter half of the week, with a matinee on Saturday, Digby Bell, an old Louisville favorite, will present his latest success, "The Debtor."

PRIEST BURIED IN CINCINNATI.

The remains of the Rev. Father John Bleckman, for twenty-three years pastor of St. Mary's church at Michigan City, Ind., and for the same length of time Catholic chaplain of the Indiana State prison at Michigan City, were interred in St. Joseph's cemetery at Cincinnati on Wednesday. Father Bleckman died on Friday last week. The Most Rev. Henry A. Moeller, Archbishop of Cincinnati, went to Michigan City to attend the obsequies and celebrated the Pontifical mass of requiem. The deceased priest was sixty-three years old and was a native of Cincinnati.

OLD TIME ROUSER.

President Kieffer Wields
Gavel Over Mackin's Meeting.

Mackin Council held one of its old time rousing meetings last Monday night. Louis J. Kieffer occupied the chair and no less than 100 members were in attendance. It was strictly business from start to finish and there was not a dull moment in it. Martin M. George was elected to membership. Edward Dillon, Urban Grater and Joseph Kalbelsch were initiated. Treasurer Dan Weber reported that Mackin Council had about $1,000 in bank.

William Kerberg, in behalf of the House Committee, reported that the improved equipment for the bath-rooms and necessary new heating apparatus had been ordered. President Louis J. Kieffer, William F. Burke and George Simonis, who had been appointed a committee to draft appropriate resolutions on the death of the Right Rev. William George McCloskey, reported at this meeting and copies of the resolution were ordered sent to the Very Rev. J. P. Cronin, administrator of the diocese, and to the Catholic press of Louisville.

A communication was received from the basket ball team of the High School at Charelotstown, Ind., challenging Mackin's team. The matter was referred to the Gymnasium Committee. It was determined to push the work of organizing a California Club—that is to form an organization within the council for the purpose of sending a big delegation to attend the next Supreme Council on the Pacific coast. Thomas D. Clines, William Kerberg and Charles S. Raidy were appointed a committee to formulate plans. William Fortwengler, who has been ill, was reported improving. Vincent B. Smith was present after a long absence. He made a very happy address and was given the glad hand by all the members.
